

Lindsey Simoson

OWNER/BROKER SIMOSON REAL ESTATE LLC

Simoson Real Estate is a boutique residential real estate firm with a 30 year old dynamo at the helm: Lindsey Simoson. Located in a quaint office space in State Thomas, Lindsey and her team handle high end rentals and first time home buyer sales concentrating in Uptown, Lakewood, and Oak Lawn.

After graduating from SMU with a bachelors degree in communications and Spanish, Lindsey worked in property management for Gables Residential and eventually got her real estate license and started working at an apartment locating firm. It dawned on her that she should get her brokers license and expand her business into residential sales as well.

"I started my own firm and brought on agents with a full 99% referral business," says Lindsey. "I do not see this market slowing."

There's a little twist to working for Lindsey: every agent she brings on has to work with her for several months to observe how she treats her clients with extreme care and attention to detail. That's how she built her business, she says, and how it will continue to grow.
